Keeglandian Attack New Suspects

Insiders from the KLW have released the 3 suspects of the attack on the 26th of September. While no hard evidence is present, there are several reasons, according to their team, why these suspects are to be considered.

Firstly, there is Mohammed Mahdi – a loyal government official who had no alibi during 8am, the hour of crisis.

Next, Shamer Riser-Pressley refused to answer where he was at during the time, only to respond with the phrase “I was walking my fish.” This alibi made no sense as our science team’s fish walking bowl (Set to be released in March) has not one produced unit (see blueprint).

The KLW’s third suspect is not yet released but presents the same lack of alibi.

Republic of Keegan open for Migrants

The Republic of Keegan has recently released its new immigration form, found on the official Wiki page. It allows migrants to choose from the 5 states to live in, as housing is free due to the communist environment. Check it out on keegan-sanderson.fandom.com.

Keegonian System of Units Debuts!

Jacob DeMoss, the customs officer of the Republic of Keegan, has created an entire system of units that will be used domestically within the Republic. While these units are not displayed on international documents and identification (I.E. the Keeganian ID card), they will be taught to children within the nation and used by the science team’s top projects. As this is a confusing system, using base pi for the prefixes with Eulers number as well, the system is ensured to keep all documents using the system such as top-secret technological projects indecipherable to any foreign scientist.

With DeMoss taking the whole field of customs and intellectual standards in the Republic, we are ensured more security for our domestic documents and confidential projects than ever before.

Sounds of Evil: Evil under Production

Insiders inside the Kanderson team have started producing and releasing singles from their upcoming album, Sounds of Evil: Evil. The album is speculated to be a sequel to their previous album, Sounds of Evil, released in June of 2024.

Insiders say the Kanderson team is aiming for a January 2025 release date. The image to the right is the speculated album cover of Sounds of Evil: Evil.

So far, three singles from the album have been released: “The Most Evil Song”, “Keeglandian Train 1902”, and “Dear Mohameds Typhlosion”, a collaboration between Kanderson and a up and coming actor in the republic, Sir NutMuncher.

New Producer in Keeglandia?

When Sir NutMuncher revealed himself to the world, everyone went crazy. A new, young producer making his own beats and lyrics in collaboration with Kanderson.

Insiders are saying this is just the beginning of a chain of up-and-coming artists revealing themselves.

Sir NutMuncher told us at the Kanderson Quill that “I’m not the only one of my kind, there are many others like me, and I’m looking forward for them to rise too. Let there be evil.” Insiders say the second person in this chain has already made a song and that it’s going to be released on Sounds of Evil: Evil, Kanderson’s new album set to be released in January of 2025. Although insiders insist, they do not know the name of this producer, they say he goes by the alias “B”. “His beats are straight fire; his flow is to die for” said one insider. “I couldn’t stop crying when I heard his song, I just wish they kept the producer tag in for the test screenings, I would kill to know who made this so I could share my wife with him.” said another insider.

☆☆☆☆☆ BREAKING NEWS FROM THE CAPITAL ☆☆☆☆☆

-Tsar Keegan Sanderson is beginning to heal from the attacks on the 26th of September. His organs are fully regrown, and his body is regaining integrity. The scientists in the Republic are truly lifesavers for the regenerative serum that enhanced the immune system and reconstructive tissue in the Tsar's body.

-The RKAF is assembling in training, waiting for the possibility of war due to the attacks, given the chance that they were from another nation. The militia assembly is a pivotal turn in the history of the Republic as the militia has not ever been deployed for war, nor has enough personnel to fight one effectively. The R&D team is working on producing equipment to mitigate those downsides.

-News of a dog that looks like a muffin aired on Television. Truly a magnificent image to lay eyes upon. Consider searching it on Google and going to the images tab.
