

THE KEEGANIAN PRESS

Volume 04 - Keegan Sanderson Broadcasting Corporation and Television Service© - September 2025 - Visit the Wiki! <https://www.keegan-sanderson.fandom.com/>

Sir NutMuncher Announces Debut Album Don Quixote de la Muncha

Sir NutMuncher has announced a new album / mixtape Don Quixote de la Muncha, to come out in late 2025 to early 2026. He has released the single “My Name is Sir NutMuncher” in preparation for its release. The cover of the single showcases the faceless singer with his back turned to the camera. Listeners are betting on whether the album cover will have Sir NutMuncher facing the camera, finally putting a face to the cover, or not. Betting sites are in favor of him turning around.

Where is MC Shamer?

Question has arisen facing the disappearance of MC Shamer, a popular figure in the Keeganian music scene, contributing to songs such as “B>R>U>N>O?R>O>T”, “BBL IAM”, and the upcoming “That’s What That Was”.

The K LW has released information regarding his disappearance; “MC Shamer is alive and in good health. He currently resides abroad with his spouse and three children while fulfilling duties in service of the Keeganian state”.

However, suspicion regarding the wording in the released statement by the K LW has arisen however, with people questioning the abrupt ending paragraph stating: “He is not dead, we repeat, he is NOT dead, trust us”.

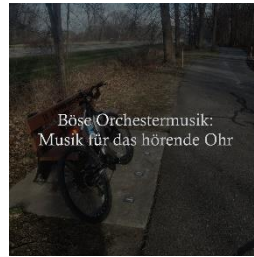

Sounds of Evil ∞? Jayse Guy continues to impress from beyond the grave

The Republic of Keegan’s cultural community was taken by surprise this week as the government announced the posthumous release of Sounds of Evil ∞, the debut solo album by experimental artist Jayse Guy. The record is unlike any other. True to its title, the album is infinite; continuously generated in real time, ensuring that no two listeners are ever exactly alike. Listeners may enter any Unix timestamp to “drop in” at a precise point in the unfolding soundscape, effectively traveling through the work across past, present, and future moments. Equally unconventional are the track titles. Each one is constructed from a set of one hundred words associated with darkness and malevolence, creating unique and often unsettling combinations. This installment in Keeganian Media is a testament to the undying nature of our citizens.

Welcome Back Keeganian Press!

The Keeganian Press returns to form after a minor yearlong disruption caused by outside forces that are no longer real obstacles; however, as a precaution The Keeganian Press feels obligated to inform the reader that this paper is SATIRICAL and DOES NOT REFLECT THE VIEWS OF THE INTERNATIONAL ACADEMY OF MACOMB.

Giwdul King von Evil II Releases Debut Symphony

Composer Giwdul King von Evil II has released his debut symphony, Böse Orchestermusik: Musik für das hörende Ohr, under the Keegan Lawsuit Corporation label. Giwdul recorded Böse Orchestermusik from 2024 to shortly before the symphony's release in 2025 with the Keeganian

Symphonic Orchestra as provided to him by Nohat. All composition was done by Giwdul during the years of recording excluding Cyrano de Burgerac [Interlude] which was written by his dad in 2001. Giwdul passed away a day before the album was released.

The February 11th Attacks; and Redemption

On February 11th, 2025, Lay Distribution put out an attack on all of Keeglandia; they threatened our music, and they went through with that threat. On that day, all Keeganian music (excluding L.E.O and N.M.M) was taken off of streaming services. Later in the year, Lay Distribution informed music distribution company Unchained Music about them having taken down our music and asked them to do the same; they obliged.

But as of August 20th, 2025, we all celebrate as news comes to Keeglandia HQ that Lay Distribution is going out of business! In celebration, Kanderson has released the song “BEST REGARDS 3.”, the third installment in the yet to be released Best Regards series covering the February 11th attacks.

NickMusicMedia Stuns with new Rock

NickMusicMedia has made headlines in the fashion world this week with his acquirement of a new rock to build calluses on his hands. This new fashion statement is expected to start trending as soon as it hits the mainstream. Keeganian fashion is truly among the best there is.

Militarization of the Prefecture has Begun!

RKAF General Nicklas Hooton shared with us last week that the Keegan Prefecture, while unknown to the international community except for myth, has been sought out by Bhutan. This discovery was made possible due to the Keeganian Intelligence Agency of the KLW, and it has provided reason to ship several Armies of high performance KeegBot K2s (Left) to the prefecture via the Dylidaho tunnel. These ensure nobody will enter without invitation. These new units are manufactured by Kanderson and Co. They are equipped with heavy armor made of the KgTi alloy and are powered by Tsar Keegan's foo. In short, General Nicklas Hooton has no concerns about Bhutan's search for the Prefecture.

Robert's Foot Locker: New Shoes in Stock!

Everyone on the block is hyped about the new Air Sanderson Pro sneakers from Robert's Foot Locker! They are a rare win and have been spotted at the Kasino tables near you. Use your government subsidized money and head on down to gamble for a pair for no cost at all! This marks the newest statement in Keegnaian fashion since NickMusicMedia got his callus rock, marking the most significant month for fashion in Keeganian history!

Tsar Keegan Sanderson Spotted with Bling!

Just a few days ago, Keegan Sanderson was seen wearing two luxury watches; one for each wrist. Why is this relevant you ask? Well, a leader with 2 watches can tell the time twice as well as a leader with one. And don't get us started on the leaders without watches. Say goodbye to bad time telling and say hello to Keegan Sanderson with 2 watches™! Reports say the watch was a government purchased item, deemed "internationally vital" by the Keeganian Economics Watch Nonprofit.

Merry Keegmäespre (Keegmas)!

Keeglandia had a special week celebrating Keegmas on August 23rd, 2025! Nohat gifted Tsar Keegan a pure gold, diamond-studded watch in true gambleist fashion. Amy Schumer topped the evil points this Keegmas and was "blessed" with cancer by the one and only himself. Janet Ackerman came in second but, due to her name starting with J, also got cancer... no trip to India for her!

Ominous "Friday" Speculations; "NOTHING WILL HAPPEN"

Reports from the rising star Sir NutMuncher have been scarce since Don Quixote de la Muncha. The only hint at a new release is his mention of "Friday," though he refuses to specify which one. Given the Friday before Keegmas is likely mundane, it's assumed the release will either not happen (Source: Nohat) or will occur on a future Friday.

Sounds of Evil 3xLP Sets Available via Mail Order

Sounds of Evil now has a vinyl release that costs an arm and a leg! At 40$ per record, you're looking at a 120$ full Sounds of Evil set. Fill out the form on the back of this issue to request a mail order version of The Keeganian Game – Get a Higher Number than the Paper and Win!

This month, the number for the Keeganian Game is... 17! What is your number? _____. Email your answer to press staff to see if you win a prize!

Want to submit an article? Join the press! Show your voice!

Stories may or may not be accepted due to treason or anti-Tsar propaganda. Submit your articles cautiously. Submit stories to keegansandersonclassaction@gmail.com

Obituaries

Giwdul King von Evil II
2009 - 2025

Giwdul Evil II, a symphonic orchestrator, lived his life in poverty. Aided by producer Nohat, he was allowed a chance to achieve what he always wanted, a symphonic orchestra to play his music; his final dream.

Jayse Guy
2008 - 2024

A born and raised Keeglandian has recently died from the deliberate helicopter crash preformed in an attempt to assassinate Tsar Keegan during a political rally. He will be dearly missed.